

4th International Conference on eLearning for Knowledge-Based Society 24th South East Asia Regional Computer Conference

Message from IMPACT Exhibition and Convention Center

It was a rare opportunity indeed for Thailand through the Ministry of Information and Communication Technology to be hosting two important conferences concurrently in November this year at the Bangkok International ICT Expo 2007: the 24th South East Asia Regional Computer Conference (SEARCC) under the theme, “eEverything for Knowledge-Based Society” and the 4th International Conference on eLearnig for Knowledge-Based Society under the theme, “eLearning for Knowledge-Based Society”.

On behalf of Impact Exhibition and Convention Centre, it is my privilege and honour to express our appreciation to the Organizing Committee, led by Prof.Dr. Srisakdi Charmonman, for having given us the chance to support the events as their venue. We do hope that the participants did enjoy our facilities while learning from one another’s experiences. Its output, in the form of proceedings being compiled here. Should further contribute to the advancement of eLearning in the region and provide a further step towards Thailand’s ultimate goal of becoming a truly knowledge-based society.
